Growing up overseas in an oilfield family allowed Bill Voss, a ninth-generation Texan, the opportunity to interact with various cultures. Voss inherited that dogged determination of his pioneering ancestry assuring clients that his law firm will not back down in the face of adversity. To the benefit of many of his clients, Voss works exclusively on a contingency-based fee and, at the end of the day, his clients acknowledge Voss did an excellent job and made them whole again, while moving swiftly through the legal system. Mr. Voss offers aggressive co-counsel agreements to all referring lawyers.
